

About this site

Paid for by the public: as electricity billpayers, and as taxpayers standing behind the loans.

This site follows the money behind the UK's renewables and net zero programme through the public record. It starts with the national bill and ends on the Banffshire coast, where wind farm cables and a planned Shetland link come ashore.

Who runs it

An offshore vessel fleet manager who lives on the Banffshire coast. The site has no political affiliation. It is not connected to any energy company, regulator or campaign group.

How to check a figure

- Figures on most pages carry a label; where a page has no labels, its sources are listed on the page or in the evidence register. OFFICIAL means a government body, regulator or auditor published it. FILED means it is in a company's own accounts. COMPUTED means this site did the arithmetic, which is shown. ESTIMATE and PRESS mean what they say.
- Each page of figures ends with its sources; the four headline figures on the home page are sourced on the bill page. The evidence register lists the Moray Firth figures one by one, with the document and the place in it.
- Where a figure could not be found, the site says so. The missing figures lists what the public pays for but cannot see.

- The site takes no position on climate science. It asks what was spent, what it bought, and who was paid.

Corrections and missing figures

If a figure here is wrong, or you hold one that is missing, write to the address below. Say which page and which figure, and name the document that shows the right one. A correction backed by a document is made and dated on this page. A figure with no document stays a claim.

WRITE TO

justsayinmin@proton.me

SELECT THE ADDRESS AND COPY IT

Do not send personal details you would not want kept. Messages are read by the person who runs the site and are not published.

Privacy

This site sets no cookies and runs no tracking or analytics. Its typefaces are stored with the site, so your browser contacts no font service. The company that hosts the site records visits in its own server logs, as every web host does.

Maps, charts and other people's material

- Five maps on the Shetland link page are reproduced from SSEN Transmission's published consultation booklets, for criticism and review. They remain SSEN's copyright and will be removed if SSEN asks.
- The site's own charts are drawn from published data: Kingfisher Bulletin notices, the Crown Estate Scotland offshore wind dataset, EMODnet, and coastline data © OpenStreetMap contributors.
- Contains public sector information licensed under the Open Government Licence v3.0. Its use here does not mean any public body endorses this site.

- Typefaces: Bricolage Grotesque and Atkinson Hyperlegible, under the SIL Open Font License.

Corrections made

None yet. First published 14 October 2026.

For information and debate. Not financial, legal or investment advice. Figures are as published by the sources named, at the dates shown; estimates and opinions are labelled as such. No wrongdoing is alleged against any person or company. This site is not funded, not run for profit, carries no advertising, and is not connected to any energy company, regulator or campaign group. Corrections, with the document that shows the right figure, to justsayinmin@proton.me.

Disclaimer · Downloads \(PDF\) · Evidence register · About